Background: That scum Palpatine. How he became Emperor is beyond you. Why, the man's an upstart! The idea that Palpatine should be your sovereign is completely intolerable. Everyone in your family shares your detestation for the swine.

You joined the Rebellion as soon as you had the chance.

There are some drawbacks to the Rebellion, of course. All this democracy bit is quite tiresome. It's really rather annoying to have all these aliens and members of the lower orders as your equals in the Rebellion's military hierarchy. Still, you must steel yourself to the task — noblesse oblige and all that. It is unfortunate, though, that you'll miss out on this year's social season at the galactic core.

Personality: Gracious with those who acknowledge themselves as your inferiors; slightly to insufferably arrogant with anyone else. You feel obligated to follow a strict moral code — always to honor debts, always to fight fair, never to let anyone impugn your honor. You have no patience with commercial motives and cannot, yourself, be bothered to keep track of money or expenditures.

A Quote: "My good man — I realize cloaks of that cut are fashionable this season, but there is such a thing as too much."

Connection With Other Characters: Another Senatorial — you're related, or a long-time political ally, or a long-time political enemy now united in hostility to the Empire. Loyal Retainer — he or she is your liegeman. Retired Captain — you know him or her by reputation. The Merc — you hired his or her Company once. Any other character — perhaps one or several come from your planet.
